Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-3, and 5-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Evans (US Patent No. 6,347,329).

Regarding Claims 1, 8, 9, 16, 17 and 18, Evans discloses a method of generating a medical¹ report, comprising:

displaying a plurality of pre-chosen findings comprising a plurality of medical condition that are associated with a particular portion or sub-portion of a living body, and a separate medical report simultaneously on an electronic display, the medical report comprising a summary section (see Fig. 5, 191, 193, 154, 151, column 6, lines 45-53, Evans);

selecting at least one of said pre-chosen findings based on a diagnosis of the particular portion or sub-portion of the body (see column 6, lines 54-59, Evans);

automatically copying electronically said selected at least one pre chosen findings from the displayed per-chosen findings into the summary section of the medical report upon an indication that it is desired that said selected findings be add to the summary section (see column 5, lines 6-33, Evans²);

selecting a subset of said selected at least one of said pre-chosen findings (Fig. 20, step 334, and 335, Evans); and copying electronically said subset of said selected ones of said pre-chosen findings into a second area of the summary section, wherein said subset of said selected at least one of said pre-chosen findings are displayed in addition to, and separately from said selected at least one of said pre-chosen findings (Fig. 20, step 337, and 338, Col. 11, lines 43-56, Evans), thereby automatically generating said summary section (Fig. 7, and Fig. 21, 350, wherein the display of a patient information generated as a summary corresponds to the newly added limitation).

Regarding Claims 2, and 10, Evans discloses a method wherein the medical report further comprises a plurality of group sections, and automatically copying electronically each pre-chosen finding into a group section of the plurality of group sections which corresponds to the pre-chosen finding upon an indication that it is desired that said selected findings be add to the summary section of the medical report (see column 5, lines 42-57, Evans).

Regarding Claims 3, 6, 11, and 14, Evans discloses a method further comprising the steps of:

receiving for a second time a selection of said respective pre-chosen finding from the displayed pre-chosen findings, the second selection of said pre-chosen fining being previously selected and copied into the summary section of the medical report (see column 6, lines 55-64, Evans³); and automatically removing electronically the second selected pre-chosen finding from the summary section of the medical report upon an indication that it is desired that said selected finding be removed from the summary section of the medical report (see column 10, lines 56-63, Evans⁴).

Regarding Claims 5, and 13, Evans discloses a method further comprising:

displaying on the electronic display an indicator next to the selected pre-chosen finding, separate from the medical report, (see Fig. 20, indicator 001, Evans).

³ By allowing the user to select more than one form, reads on second form as the claimed limitation.

⁴ The method of ending and restarting the process reads on removing data.

Art Unit: 2164

Regarding Claims 7, and 15, Evans discloses a method wherein the copying further comprises converting the selected pre-chosen finding into a more descriptive form before copying into the summary section (see Fig. 20, 335, Evans).

Regarding Claim 12, Evans discloses a method further comprising selecting the pre-chosen findings from a list of available findings (see Fig. 20, 334, Evans).

Response to Amendment

Applicant's arguments filed 10/24/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues Evans's system fails to teach the newly amended limitation combined with the rest of the limitations.

Examiner disagrees. The newly amended limitation has been addressed in the rejection above.
